

Job Title: Distributor Agent

Job Type: Freelance / Independent Contractor

Location: Remote or Field-Based

About the Role:

Join the Eco-Gen Battery team as a freelance Agent Distributor and help bring environmentally friendly, innovative battery solutions to customers! This is a flexible gig opportunity ideal for individuals who want to earn on a commission basis while promoting sustainable energy solutions.

Key Responsibilities:

1. Sales and Promotion:
 - Actively promote and sell Eco-Gen Battery products, including motorcycle batteries, autogate batteries, car jumpers, and more.
 - Conduct product demonstrations and explain unique features like fast charging, long cycle life, and environmental friendliness.
2. Customer Engagement:
 - Identify and engage potential customers, retailers, and resellers.
 - Provide excellent customer service and support, including guidance on product selection and usage.
3. Market Expansion:
 - Build and expand your customer network within your community or online.
 - Identify new business opportunities and collaborate with potential partners.
4. Marketing Activities:
 - Participate in promotional campaigns, trade-ins, and green initiatives.
 - Leverage social media and other digital platforms to increase product visibility.
5. Reporting and Feedback:
 - Share market insights, customer feedback, and sales reports with the MFF Green Technology team.

Requirements:

- Strong interpersonal and communication skills.
- Ability to work independently and manage time effectively.
- Sales or customer service experience is an advantage, but not required.
- Passion for green technology and sustainability.
- Access to a smartphone and internet connection for reporting and marketing.

Benefits:

- Flexible Work Schedule: Work at your own pace and convenience.
- Performance-Based Income: Earn attractive commissions for each sale.
- Training Support: Access to product training and marketing resources.
- Opportunity to Make a Difference: Contribute to a greener, more sustainable future.
